Britpop's bands looked to the Kinks and the Beatles to carve out a prepensely British identity in part as a reaction to the sweeping influence of Seattle's grunge scene, but they couldn't escape the corrupting influence of their own success.

Britpop!: Cool Britannia And The Spectacular Demise Of ...

Cool Britannia was a period of increased pride in the culture of the United Kingdom throughout most of the 1990s, inspired by 1960s pop culture. The success of Britpop and musical acts such as the Spice Girls, Blur and Oasis led to a renewed feeling of optimism in the United Kingdom following the tumultuous years of the 1970s and 1980s. The name is a pun on the title of the British patriotic song "Rule, Britannia!"
