Deere 328 knotting issues - posted in Machinery: The baler in question is a friends. I will be looking at the manual tomorrow but wanted to ask for advice here. This baler is around ten years old maybe 5000 bales or so. Great shape makes nice bales, but will start missing knots, mostly on right side. A lot of times it will miss 4-5 and then be okay again, then back to missing some, over and over.

Eliminates vibration for longer operating life, greater operator comfort, and increased machine uptime. Low wear Steel tines are stronger than plastic alternatives and are free to move, so they are protected if a foreign object hits them. Faster working speeds Each tine weighs 1kg, giving the impeller very high inertia.
